Dear Miss Royon,

Thank you for your letter regarding the eightieth birthday of Cyrus Eaton. I should wish the following message to be delivered to him:

"It is of particular pleasure to honour Cyrus Eaton on the occasion of his eightieth birthday. He has worked with great dedication for the cause of peace and at some sacrifice to himself. Without doubt, the Movement of Pugwash Scientists would have been unable to achieve what it has, were it not for his personal assistance and involvement in that important work. His is a very noble example of the responsibilities of people in an age when the very survival of mankind is in doubt."

With good wishes,

Yours sincerely,

Bertrand Russell
