

owned by the captain, and only insured for half her value.

PRESBYTERIAN WITNESS, Saturday 22 December 1860, page 202.

One other item I neglected to acknowledge from one of your previous letters--namely, the MacQuarries from Scotch Hill. I know very little of them but I am wondering whether you mean a John MacQuarrie who emigrated in 1810 to N.S., and came from Rum, Argyleshire, lived at Scotch Hill until the age of 89 years where he died on 24 Jan 1860. Not likely the one you want, but worth mentioning I thought.

Also, you did not mention receiving my missive taken from a Frs. Witness re the man who visited Gairloch and vicinity in the late 1850's. If you did indeed receive it, what think??

Best for now.

Shirley

P.S. I would say that Capt. James salvaged 1/2 of the value of the vessel and the insurance covers the rest of his loss. What think?