

PUGWASH, Nova Scotia, Canada

Statement of Participants
1955 Pugwash International Conference
Presented to Cyrus Eaton
By Julian Huxley
Pugwash, Nova Scotia, Canada, August 10, 1955

Nons of us who have been your guests at Pugwash, Mr. Eaton, are ever likely to forget our happy experience here. It was your inspiration to bring together in fruitful communion men and women of most diverse attainments, men of action and men of thought, writers, business men, and scholars. We may well have witnessed the birth of one of those ideas which are destined to open up ever increasing possibilities of good. We deeply appreciate the opportunity you have given us to participate in this. And one and all we thank you for the unfailing courtesy, graciousness, and kindness which you have shown us as our host.
