29th October, 1958.

Dear Miss Royon,

I am writing on behalf of the Continuing Committee to express my appreciation for all your contributions to the success of the Kitzbühel Conference. I understand from my colleagues that you and your staff have been working nearly 20 hours every day, and that your splendid organization of the secretariat made the smooth running of the meetings possible. Even more than this, it was the cheerful atmosphere in the secretariat combined with your calmness and kindness that checked the more impatient of the participants and kept things going smoothly.

Please convey our best thanks to Mrs. Sofranko and Miss Borger for their hard work and readiness to help at all times.

Yours sincerely,

Bertrand Russell
